About Agricultural Bank of China

The predecessor of the Agricultural Bank of China was the Agricultural Cooperative Bank, established in 1951. Since the late 1970s, the bank has evolved from a state-owned specialized bank to a wholly state-owned commercial bank and subsequently to a state-controlled commercial bank. The bank was restructured into a joint stock limited liability company in January 2009. In July 2010, the bank was listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange and the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. At the launch of the listing, the bank had the world's largest initial public offering (IPO) at that time. It’s ranked 58th in Forbes Global 2000 list of the world's biggest public companies.

Ownership

The main shareholder of Agricultural Bank of China is Huijin Investment, a state-owned investment company, which holds 40.03% of the shares.
