About La Banque Postale

La Banque postale is a French bank created on 1 January, 2006 as a subsidiary of La Poste, the national postal service. It offers private customers a full range of banking and insurance products and services, tailored to their basic needs and competitively priced. For corporate customers, they have a range of simple solutions to meet all the workflow, cashflow, social engineering and financing requirements. La Banque Postale works closely with local stakeholders of all sizes actively involved in regional development, including local authorities, social housing partners, those working in the social economy and businesses. The bank provides funding for their projects and mobilises customer savings to support regional development.

Equator Principles

Implementation and reporting

The Equator Principles require that adopting banks publicly report on the implementation of the principles. You can find the reporting requirements for EPFIs here.

Contact and complaints

The Equator Principles currently lack a formal complaints mechanism. Should you have any concerns or complaints about how the Equator Principles are being applied in a specific project in which La Banque Postale is also involved, please get in touch with our Equator Principles team.
